Lewis Expected To Comply With Order Of Court

Has Until March 25 To Withdraw Notice Terminating Miners' Wage Agreement

WILDCAT STRIKES ARE POSSIBILITY

By PHILLIPS J. PECK
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Mar. 18.—Government officials were fearful today of "wildcat" walkouts in the soft coal fields even though John L. Lewis complies with the supreme court mandate against another stoppage.

The UMW president has until March 25 to withdraw his notice terminating the miners' wage agreement with the coal mines administration, operator of the federally-owned bituminous industry.

Such a withdrawal will eliminate the Lewis-imposed deadline of March 31 for another mine shutdown. It would reinstate the government-UMW contract until June 30, when federal control of the mines ceases.

Confident Lewis To Comply

Government coal officials are confident that Lewis will comply with the court order.

But they are afraid that resentment among the UMW rank-and-file over the government's court battle with Lewis will cause the miners to abandon the pits anyway. Officials fear "wildcat" walkouts even before March 31.

Federal concern stems from the bitterness with which the miners greeted the supreme court decision upholding contempt convictions against Lewis and the union in connection with last fall's 17-day walkout.

In Pennsylvania and other coal fields, the union is expected to comply with the court order.

PA NEW OBSERVES

Just to illustrate the difference between corresponding seasons of succeeding years, one local nurseryman says that it will be at least another month before any digging or planting can start. And last year March was a whoppingly busy month, his busiest of the year!

Return of heavy snowfall last night made ashing work on street and highways on a near mid-winter plan, during the night and morning to make roads and highways safe for traffic. More extensive ashing was done in the city this morning than for weeks.

Although snow of one and one-half inches in depth was recorded this morning in several sections of the county, State Highway department attaches did not bring out the snow plows, but sent out ashing crews instead to make the roads safe for travel.

Dear Pa News: We are newcomers to New Castle and great admirers of this fair city. However, Saturday night our faith in human nature was shaken: some thoughtless person stole three lanterns that the Water company had placed on an excavation in the street in front of our home, thus endangering those driving past at night. How can people be so selfish and inconsiderate of the rights and possessions of others? My hat's off to the five men who stayed on the job Saturday morning working despite cold and snow. Too bad the vandals can't be apprehended and made to finish the job in the cold and wet. Four bells to your fine newspaper, and especially to your column, Pa News. Sincerely, Mrs. Joseph Maslanik, 2207 Delaware avenue.

U. S. Squadron May Soon Visit Port Of Athens

(BULLETIN)

LONDON, March 18.—(INS)—Adm. Robert L. Conolly, commander-in-chief of the U. S. Fleet in European waters, revealed today that an American naval squadron may visit Piraeus—the port of Athens—very soon.

Confirming that he recommended such a visit, the American naval chief declared that approval by the Greek government is now being awaited. He said the 12-ship flotilla, including the Aircraft Carrier Leyte, the Cruisers U. S. S. Portsmouth and Providence, and six Destroyers—also will call at Suda Bay, Crete.

Conolly declared:

"In connection with the Athens report that a self-contained, self-supported task force of Vice Adm. B. H. Bieri may visit Suda Bay in mid-April and Piraeus later in the spring, the visit was recommended by me to the navy department two months ago as part of a program visit by American ships to Mediterranean ports.

HONOLULU, March 18.—(INS)—Fear mounted hourly today for the lives of 12 to 15 crewmen of the broken American tanker Fort Dearborn, still missing after 32 of their shipmates were rescued from the storm-swept central Pacific.

A radio message from Navy patrol craft escort 902 quoted the Fort Dearborn's chief engineer, John Dobbins, of Long Beach, Calif., as saying a lifeboat lowered from the tanker may never have cleared the vessel.

Dobbins was one of 22 crewmen taken off the stern section of the bisected tanker yesterday by the navy amphibious force flagship El Dorado in the second of two dramatic rescue operations.

The 22 were put aboard the PCE-902, now headed for Honolulu, where its arrival was expected Thursday.

Towns Imperiled

A number of towns and villages were imperiled by the surging flood waters.

The floods caused havoc in transportation, swelling the Thames and many other rivers.

Women were among hundreds of volunteers who worked throughout the night patching river walls to hold back waters which threatened to flood homes and farmlands.

In some areas the gales opened up the ground.

First Presbyterian Congregation Issues Unanimous Call To Former Westminster President

MEETING HELD ON MONDAY NIGHT

By PIERRE J. HUSS
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

LAKE SUCCESS, Mar. 18.—The United Nations in general is hoping today the United States will act on General Douglas MacArthur's proposal that the international organization take over the non-military control of Japan.

A majority of delegations sounded here agreed promptly that such a move would bolster U. N. prestige and at the same time fully restore and decline in morale and influence suffered through President Truman's by-passing act in giving direct aid to Greece and Turkey.

In the same opinion however there could be no question of accepting enforcement responsibility of law and order in Japan until the United Nations is able to muster its own international police forces.

U. S. Representative Warren R. Austin indicated that the MacArthur pronouncement came without previous knowledge as far as the American delegation here is concerned. In his opinion, it is largely a question of the procedural nature as far as the United Nations is concerned, once the United States has decided to follow MacArthur's offer.

Austin came close to officially reiterating unbroken United States support of the United Nations in battling an Australian move to link final approval of the American trusteeship over former Japanese mandates to conclusion of the peace treaty with Japan.

Let him roar and beller and strut his stuff, let him send the snow and play rather rough, let the winter spend with a leaden sky, his time is rapidly going by. These little tips that he sends us now are only to show us that he knows how, but he has to yield to the warming sun, and it isn't long till the snow is done. So let him roar, let his winds blow free, the time is done when he frightens me, for it soon is spring, you can plainly see and the weather, oh yes, it's just thirty-three.

House Committee Urges Extension Of Sugar Rationing

WASHINGTON, March 18. (INS)—The House banking and currency committee declared today that termination of sugar rationing and price control at this time "might result in excessive price increases".

In a report to the House, the committee recommended that both be continued until Oct. 31, 1947, under the administration of the secretary of agriculture, instead of the OPA.

In urging enactment of an extension bill, the committee said that if controls ended now "the housewife would be at a disadvantage of having to bid against the industrial user for the available short supply".

The bill is slated to be taken up by the House Friday. It also authorizes the secretary of agriculture to exercise inventory controls until March 31, 1948.

Under existing law, the allocation of sugar would end March 31, while price control would terminate June 30.

BIDAULT ALTERS ATTITUDE AFTER TALK WITH STALIN

France can count on Russia to prevent Germany from ever again becoming a menace to the peace of Europe.

Stalin also is believed to have urged Bidauld to avoid getting France entangled in any bloc directed against Russia.

It was intimated that Stalin assured Bidauld that if the French remain neutral they will enjoy not only the staunch friendship of the Soviet Union but also will receive economic aid.

The importance of Russian participation in Allied control of Germany's industrial Ruhr area, as demanded yesterday by Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov, also was believed to have been discussed.

Modifying Statement

There were strong indications in French circles that Bidauld is modifying his statement especially in regard to French objections to establishment of central economic agencies in Germany which the Russians want.

Meanwhile speculation was rife concerning the circumstances which led to Bidauld being the first of the visiting foreign ministers to be received by Stalin.

Officially, the French delegation spokesman maintains that Bidauld himself asked for the interview, but unofficially French sources say that the Soviet foreign office made the overture to Bidauld. This was said to have been contained in a message intimating Stalin would like to see him and that if he asked for an interview the request would be granted.

May Receive Marshall

The reception of the French foreign minister by the Soviet generalissimo led to speculation that American Secretary of State George C. Marshall and British Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin will also be received soon.

United States delegation sources said, however, that Marshall had not as yet requested any interview with the Soviet leader.

It was explained by French representatives that Bidauld, in accordance with diplomatic practice, expressed to Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov several days ago a desire to "visit the Kremlin".

The action of Stalin in talking with Bidauld before having Marshall or Bevin at the Kremlin appeared as definite gesture of Russian friendship toward France.

areas, the miners talked grimly of "real trouble" ahead. Federal officials are well aware that the mines have been shut down before without public word from Lewis.

Fine Reduced

The supreme court reduced from three million 500 thousand dollars to $700,000 the fine against the UMW in the contempt case on condition that Lewis withdraw the contract termination notice in compliance with a lower court injunction.

Otherwise, the union would have to pay another two million 800 thousand dollars.

Lewis' attorneys might petition the high tribunal for a rehearing of the contempt case. Just what effect this would have on the mandate is uncertain.

However, government officials are figuring on the UMW's withdrawal of the notice and they are concerned about what may happen next.

In ending the recent shutdown, Lewis told the miners to stay at work until March 31. They have been that decade before them for over three months and may have herded its cancellation. The miners are accustomed to spring "vacations."

were too wide to be patched and millions of gallons gushed through and swept the countryside.

The fresh rains were accompanied by new winds of gale velocity. Swift action by troops rushed to the pumping station at Hampton, Middlesex, saved the drinking water supply serving a third of London.

The troops, summoned by London water board authorities, worked desperately to build a wall barrier against the rising floodwaters of the Thames from reaching the floor of the pumping station.

NAVAL BASE CHAPEL SCENE OF WEDDING

Great Lakes Naval Base chapel, Great Lakes, Ill., was the scene of a lovely and impressive candlelight wedding Saturday afternoon, when Lt. Gertrude I. Hitchcock, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas H. Hitchcock, of 222 Elizabeth street, this city, became the bride of Eugene Poulton, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Poulton, of Columbiana, O.

For her wedding the bride wore a street-length white crepe gown with long sleeves and short peplum in front, embroidered in gold braid, and gold sequin Juliet cap with a short white veil. She carried a single white orchid trimmed with white streamers. She was given in marriage by her father.

Organ music preceding the ceremony was played by Mrs. C. Swenson, and Russell Gutber of the naval base, sang "Ave Maria".

Following the ceremony the bridal party and parents of the bride and groom received guests in the officers club. From the bride's table, decorated with a large urn of spring flowers flanked by candles at either end, buffet refreshments were served. At one side was a three-tiered wedding cake cut by the bride and groom before their departure on a honeymoon to an undisclosed destination.

Maple Sugar Time

With no thought of international problems, jurisdictional strikes or whether or not there will be a twenty per cent slash in income taxes, the maple trees are on the job again, giving up the sap that finally winds up in golden syrup or toothsome sugar.

If you never tapped a maple tree in March, nor drank the sap through an elder spile, right from the tree, nor took part in a "sugar bolin", you've missed a lot of fun.

It isn't unalloyed fun of course. There's work to do, drilling the trees, hanging the buckets, and then lugging them to the kitchen stove or to the outdoor fire where the sap is being boiled down.

Did you ever drop a lump of the sticky, boiled down sap into the snow to cool it off. Or give a dog a lump of it and then laugh at the look of surprise on his face as he tried to get his jaws unstuck?

Lawrence county is not wealthy with sugar maple trees and yet there are more than you might think. Trouble is most of us don't want to take all the time and labor necessary to get the syrup or sugar.

Two Churchills

By a strange coincidence, the second decade of this century saw two men named Winston Churchill winning face as writers. One of them was the English journalist who has since become an international figure because of the inspired leadership he gave Britain during World War II. The other was an American novelist who was once a national figure but who, when he died the other day at the age of 75, no longer commanded the vast audience that formerly read his books.

During the years when he was turning out novels in a steady stream the public welcomed them eagerly. His "Richard Carvel" made him known from coast to coast and it is said that the novel was more widely read and discussed for the first year after it was published than any other written in this country up to that time. And others like "The Crisis," "The Crossing," and "A Far Country" became best-sellers. He might have gone on indefinitely, but in 1917 he put aside his writing tools and went into seclusion.

The joint possessors of the name of Winston Churchill were both so well known that they had to reach a compromise to relieve the confusion of the public. The English Mr. Churchill, because he was three years younger, agreed to sign himself Winston S. Churchill. During the war his fame became so secure that it was no longer necessary to insert the initial.

But the American left a group of novels that are still to be found on the library shelves and can still be read with enlightenment.

World Capital

One has an uneasy feeling, from time to time, that the architects working on the plans for the new skyscraper headquarters of the United Nations in New York may be living in a dream world. The stuff they are dealing with—bricks, mortar, steel and concrete—is solid enough. But the inescapable question which hangs over their blueprints is whether the United Nations will survive long enough to occupy the magnificent new home the architects are planning for it.

If this is bothering the planners, there is no hint of it in their public announcements. They have given out the information that they are now seriously considering decking over the Franklin D. Roosevelt Drive so that United Nations officials can enjoy the view of the river without being annoyed by streams of passing automobiles. While most of the world is shaking its collective—no pun intended—over the inability of the great powers to get together, the headquarters planning staff has asked for $1,325,000 so it can start tearing down the old buildings on the site and get to work building the new world capital.

Perhaps this lack of nervous apprehension is something that comes naturally to architects. They are frequently compelled to deal with clients who aren't sure what they want and who are on the point of abandoning the idea of building in despair because of the expense. The profession seems to generate, in its practitioners, a cheerful confidence that the job will be done, sooner or later, regardless of the black misgivings of his clients.

But the question is timely, in view of developments, whether the world, with one abandoned world capital on its hands at Geneva, will soon have two.

Advocating Old Ways

Every urban resident who has visited a dairy farm and has seen the cows in long rows with their heads held in stanchions must have been reminded of the pillory used at one time in New England to punish prisoners.

It has been suggested several times recently that the keeping of cows in that fashion is not the best procedure. A few days ago Dr. Fred W. Graves, senior state milk sanitarian of New York, told the annual meeting of the Metropolitan Certified Milk Producers' Association in New York City that a "loafing barn" provides a much better atmosphere for cows. In loafing lounges cows are not held in stanchions, but have freedom to wander about as they choose.

Dr. Graves gave several reasons why the newly suggested method is superior. He said that cows are cleaner and suffer fewer injuries when kept, properly bedded, in loafing barns; that the consumption of roughage is higher and the nutritional value of the milk is increased, that where the ceiling is at least ten feet high it is not necessary to clean the barn daily—thus saving manpower—and that if the manure is allowed to accumulate and is sprinkled with super-phosphate once or twice weekly, the fertilization value is greatly increased.

Perhaps this marks the beginning of the end of the dairy barn with its milk production assembly lines. Most people think of the assembly line as synonymous with industrial mass production, but there is reason to believe that it originated on dairy farms. It was generally adopted because it was represented as having all the advantages that are now claimed for its discontinuance. Oh, well—new days, old ways.

Setting a new record, a coast-to-coast flier lost 30 minutes trying to find New York. A lot of others who don't fly cannot see that town, either.

England is suffering, simultaneously, from unemployment and a manpower shortage. Some of the Washington bureaucrats would term that economic progress.

Generally if the guy who laughs so heartily at the photographs of his ancestors in the family album would only look in the mirror he would discover something equally as funny.

The cleaning women's union in New York City says that the women belonging to the organization will no longer clean cuspidors. Phooey. They should have lived in the tobacco-chewing era!

WASHINGTON CALLING by MARQUIS CHILD

Hysteria Cries Are Not Helpful

WASHINGTON, Mar. 18.—It is not surprising that some of the less responsible members of Congress should have reacted to President Truman's proposal for Greece and Turkey with a slight touch of hysteria. Nevertheless, their cries of "this means war" are not helpful in the present moment of tension. Fortunately there has just been released a report of a special United Nations mission to Greece which shows how intervention can mean peace and prosperity and not mere strife leading to war. It is the report of a group of experts, most of them Americans, sent to Greece by the U.N. Food and Agriculture Organization.

That report is homework for every member of Congress. It shows how Greek agriculture can be revived and new Greek industries established to make the country self-sustaining and prosperous.

While it is a non-political report, you can see that the choices we have in Greece are unmistakably clear. If the major emphasis is on the military side of our assistance, then we are likely merely to clamp a lid temporarily on the yeastiness that is Greece today. And when it finally blows up, we will get a large share of the blame.

Other Way Plain

The other way—the way of peace and reconstruction—is so plain. The F.A.O. experts recommend a broad development of water resources, including drainage, flood control, irrigation and hydro-electric projects. This is a long-term program which might take 10 years to complete. When it is completed, about one-fifth of the farm land of Greece would be irrigated, an area equivalent to about a third of the irrigated land in the farms of California. Out of this same project would come a volume of hydro-electric power equivalent to that from Boulder Dam in this country.

New methods and more research are essential to bring Greek agriculture up to something like modern standards. The report recommends the use of cooperatives so that farmers who farm on the average tiny plots of ground can go in together and acquire threshers and other modern machinery.

Must Expand Trade

Trade and industry must be greatly expanded to create a market for expanded agriculture. The report points to the possibilities in the tourist trade if ruined hotels are rebuilt and resort centers are created. Greece is a land of unexampled beauty which has been largely inaccessible to tourists because of the primitive nature of most of the countryside.

In the conclusion the report recommends that these steps be carried out by a United Nations advisory mission for Greece to be made up of representatives of various U.N. groups including the international bank, which could conceivably advance part of the necessary funds. Here, of course, the report is at variance with the recommendation that President Truman made to Congress. In his message, the president said "The United Nations and its related organizations are not in a position to extend help of the kind that is required."

Help of Kind Needed

That is one of the points on which the president could have given more information. What did he mean by "help of the kind that is required"? It is true that, because of delays and obstructions, the U.N. has never agreed upon creation of the kind of international police force which today might be used to put down the Greek border trouble.

As the president pointed out, a commission named by the United Nations Security Council is now investigating the disturbed conditions in Northern Greece. News reports indicate that the commission have told how Russian, Yugoslav and Polish members of that commission have differed arbitrarily on questions of fact with British, American and French members. So perhaps in view of the East-West split, the U.N. is not ready to handle a complicated tangle like that in Greece.

Should Use U.N.

Still, it seems to me that every effort should be made to use U.N. instrumentalities in the effort to get Greece on the track again. The F.A.O. report recognizes that loans to carry through the development program must come from outside the U.N. That is the kind of loan which Mr. Truman asked Congress to make. Once Congress acts and the program is begun, it should be possible to call on the U.N. for help and guidance.

Thus, the Food and Agriculture Organization itself could give invaluable aid. The members of the F.A.O. mission to Greece would know where to start immediately.

In doing this, we would make plain that our action in Greece was not a personal and private adventure. We would answer those who say we have harmed the U.N. in bypassing its help on Greece.

Hints On Etiquette

If you are a member of a committee which is giving a large dance for a certain cause or to honor a visiting celebrity, it is usual to wear a badge to indicate your position. You stand at the door to welcome guests and to make necessary introductions, and do not dance the first dances, but wait until later in the evening when you are quite sure that all guests have arrived. Throughout the evening, moreover, you may be on duty during intervals of the dance.

From the testimony of Bernard Baruch and others at the atomic control commission hearings, it appears that if we haven't already given away the horse we left the barn door wide open and cut the halter rope.—New York World-Telegram.

One Man's Opinion

By WALTER KIERNAN

The Democrats will offer a plan sponsored by a Republican for tax cuts . . . This affords a wonderful opportunity to take the credit or duck the blame.

The Democrats oppose the Knutson plan which would cut taxes for all in the same degree . . . They believe it not only is inequitable but there aren't enough rich people to swing an election anyway.

I don't know how Mr. Truman stands on taxes but I see he has $4,000 left out of a $75,000 salary . . . Somehow that was overlooked by the tax collectors.

To a man who has never made $4,000 that will seem eminently fair . . . until such time as he makes it and the government peels it to $3,000.

There is strong indication that the "typical taxpayer" is every man who pays taxes and who knows that the entire system was set up to rob him alone.

Anyway there is news that the army has discovered there is no such thing as a "typical American head" . . . squares, fats and pins seem to be distributed on a world-wide basis.

LOOKING AT LIFE

By ERICH BRANDEIS

A story which I read this morning certainly looks like something the Bureau of Internal Revenue put out to scare us into paying our income taxes.

"Tax Avoiders Warned That It Doesn't Pay" is the heading of the story, and it goes on to tell how small a chance you have to get by with income tax evasions.

There are all sorts of ways the bureau has to find out if you cheated says the story.

But the paragraph that interested me most was this one: "The bureau receives thousands of tax-evading tips from grudge-bearing employees and former employees, estranged wives, spite-motivated relatives and acquaintances and sundry citizens with apparent zeal for law enforcement. The identity of informers is kept secret by the bureau."

There is a very significant reflection upon human nature for you. Will there ever come a time when human beings stop hurting each other?

Not until then will there be peace on this earth, because peace is based upon "men of good will."

You noticed that the paragraph I quoted spoke of "apparent zeal for law enforcement."

That is either sarcasm or a lot of rot. Nobody likes the government—and least of all the Bureau of Internal Revenue—so much that they squeal on other people simply for patriotic reasons.

It is nothing but spite and the spirit of revenge, the same spite and spirit of revenge that have kept the world at discord and at war ever since man set foot on this earth.

From Me To You

By MESEALL

It seems that we all got over Saint Patrick's Day without too much trouble . . . that is we all seemed to until night time came and then the snows started again . . . That's OK . . . keep winter right up until Spring and then maybe there won't be too much damage done to the fruit trees in this Section . . . it has been a couple of years since we have had a good crop of fruit in this section of the country . . . about our turn now to have a bumper crop don't you think . . . well . . . it matters little what we think . . . Mother nature will take care of the situation as she pleases . . . disregarding what we say.

But talking about Spring brings to mind that the annual campaign for members in the YMCA . . . it's a yearly custom and a custom that is worth your serious consideration. Membership in the "Y" is something that can do wonders for the boys who will in the tomorrows to come, control our nation.

Tonight is the official opening of the Membership Campaign for the local YMCA . . . tonight boys of the "Y" . . . adult members of the "Y" and friends who are interested in the "Y" . . . will meet at the building and partake of a dinner . . . not an elaborate dinner but a wholesome dinner . . . group singing and a few short speeches by the leaders of this year's membership campaign will be featured . . . It won't even be a long meeting . . . for those who will attend . . . the "workers" on the membership teams . . . know they are there . . . Membership dues are not raised this year . . . it's still possible for any boy to enjoy the advantages offered by the New Castle YMCA.

Parents know what the "Y" has done for their boy . . . members of this community who have no children know it's wise to offer a membership to a lad who is not financially able to take out a membership . . . and hundreds of boys flock to the "Y" each week throughout the year to learn good sportsmanship. There is something for every boy in the "Y" . . . basketball, volleyball, swimming, handball, organized game period, club rooms, Bible classes, hobby rooms, handicraft classes . . . and in summer . . . one of the greatest summer boys' camps in the state. Yes, your dollar is well invested when you purchase a membership in the New Castle YMCA.

Great Game Of Politics

By FRANK R. KENT
(Copyright 1947, By The Baltimore Sun)

Moment Arrives To Face Realities

WASHINGTON, March 18. IT IS, perhaps, natural that members of Congress should be agitated at the proposals which President Truman has laid in their laps—that there should be confusion and hesitation among them. For the action he asks will project a new and immensely important foreign policy for the United States, the ultimate results of which cannot be accurately forecast by anyone. However, at the worst, they will not resemble the dreadful picture some of our more panicky politicians are painting—and even, in the long run, may pay dividends in peace and prosperity. In brief, there is no sense in anyone losing his head about them.

STARTING with the distressing inability of the British any longer to stand up under their commitments, the facts had only partially been assimilated by either Congress or the country when Mr. Truman made the situation bare in his message. Bluntly pointing out the threat to American security if Greece and Turkey drift, or are driven, into chaos and communism, he requested authority to buttress these trembling countries with money and materials. Concededly, it is a perilous path which we are asked to take, and it is easy to understand the feeling of many who would rather not tread it—one of whom undoubtedly is Mr. Truman.

BUT this is no time for wild talk from jittery statesmen or small partisanship from narrow ones. If ever there was a time to rise above politics and cast aside small suspicions, this is it. If ever there was a moment to face realities, it has arrived. What should be plain to every American—particularly in view of the fact that Mr. Truman has not shrunk from facing them. His position has been taken with great reluctance, but if he had taken any other he would have been damned—and with justice—as craven, inadequate, uncomprehending. And it always should be most clearly recognized that the "loan" is not one Mr. Truman wanted to reconnoiter—the responsibility on which he would like to have avoided. Yet he has not flinched from it.

CLEARLY, the decision could not be skirted—the step was forced upon us by a series of disarming events over which we had no control. Nor are the views expressed by the President merely his own views. They are also those of Secretary Acheson, Senator Vandenberg, Mr. Dulles and a vast majority of informed and intelligent men of both parties throughout the country. Risky, expensive and disturbing though the Truman course may be, the alternatives, all of which have been weighed prayerfully as well as carefully, are so much more dangerous and costly that few care to contemplate them. It is significant that in the political as in the journalistic field, the really violent opposition comes from the extreme isolationists among the Republicans and the Democratic pro-Soviet radicals, such as Mr. Henry Wallace and the egregious Senator Pepper.

The vehement arguments (close to the party line in the Daily Worker) of this strange combination ought to commend the Truman proposals to enlightened men in both parties and to the people as a whole. Actually, as Mr. Vandenberg has declared, it is unthinkable that Congress should fail to support the President on this momentous issue. Such a failure would exhibit the United States in an utterly deplorable light. It would advertise a disunity, timidity and stupidity in foreign affairs disastrous as well as humiliating. The strength of our representative at the Moscow Conference, General Marshall, would be undermined. The United Nations would be regarded by the world as a mere rearguard of leadership vital to its well being. Our ill-wishers all over the world would be gratified and encouraged. The ultimate consequences could be calamitous in the extreme.

MOST trenchantly Mr. Truman made the point that the fundamental issue in Greece and Turkey is the same for which we went to war against Germany and Japan—to prevent the oppression of a free people by aggressive totalitarian states. His proposals are consistent with our professions, pretensions and promises. And they are the logical outcome of our stand on every international conference. If, of course, is regrettable that we must follow this path but a prudent regard for our own safety along with the necessity of retaining our national self-respect make it hard to see what else there is to do.

THERE is one other fact worth holding fast to—no thoughtful man in position to have a real judgment believes that war is in any way closer since the President's message than before. On the ground that a dangerous trend has been checked with a firmness the Russians, despite their Izvestia fulminations, fully understand, many are convinced it is more remote than ever.

In View Of The News

By J. C. OESTREICHER
(U.S. Foreign Editor)

An astonishing lack of knowledge on the part of European people with regard to the high and climactic phases of American history won a place in the news today in the recurring wake of President Truman's reorientation of United States foreign policy.

With monotonous repetition, the Soviet press and radio insisted upon describing the president's proposal for financial aid to Greece and Turkey against the influx of communism as an "extension of the Monroe doctrine."

The same faulty delineation of Mr. Truman's plans appeared even in the British and French press, which presumably have full access to the documented history of the American republic.

Yet there never has been a clearer or more telegraphic exposition of a major national policy than that which was set forth by President Monroe in 1823.

When the then infant United States of America was bedeviled and endangered by European autocrats and aggressors, he issued a manifesto that was couched in the most simple terms imaginable. What he said was that the American continents, having won their independence, were out of bounds for any attempted foreign colonization.

This fundamental A B C of United States policy never was misunderstood for a full century and a quarter. And attempts to confuse it now may indicate a bewildered European awakening to the ultimate permanency of Americanism.

The doctrine itself specifically outlawed infringement upon American rights by any European power. It did not militate against interference in the affairs of the newly-established American republics with regard to trading privileges, diplomatic prerogatives. And in strict point of fact, it did not keep European influence out of American waters even during the civil war between the states, for French and other blockade runners were anything but a novelty from 1860 to 1865.

What the outside world beyond the borders of the United States is slow in realizing is the fact that an entirely new conception of American diplomacy has been set in motion.

The statement of President Truman placed one foot of the American eagle in the Dardanelles and reared its beaked head atop the Acropolis—but not for imperialism as the term is known—rather for a means of protection for the whole world against a political philosophy that clashes head on with that of the magna carta and the bill of rights.

There is thus no comparison whatever between the doctrine of President Monroe and the necessities of the moment. Whatever reactions the people of Europe may voice to contingencies at present may well be looked upon as superficial in one respect for the whole world against a political philosophy that clashes head on with that of the magna carta and the bill of rights.

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

PUNISHMENT MAY HAMPER LEARNING PROGRESS

Recently the public press and popular magazines have been coming to the defense of teachers, letting the public know how niggardly we have been with teachers, expecting them to give their best and then paying them starvation salary. In the long run the children are the sufferers from our stupidity.

As most parents know, there is a grave shortage of teachers and many of the best teachers are leaving the classroom and only a few of the ablest high school graduates are preparing to teach. To fill in the gap many teachers are selected who are wholly unprepared and unfit to teach children. Nevertheless there are still many able and wonderful teachers who, like missionaries, stick to the job they believe in heart and soul.

Criticism Of Teachers
As you must have noticed I almost never relay a letter criticizing teachers, though I get a good many of such; nor do I ever condemn teachers as a group. But today I am presenting a letter which I hope may help any teacher see how very important it is to try to be patient and self-controlled.

Of a second grade girl who has fallen behind at school after a month of enforced absence her mother writes: "We are doing the best we can to help our child at home. But by now her teacher is very impatient with her and will shake her or scold her in a loud voice when she misses a word during reading."

When Helping Children
I have read in your column how you tell us parents when helping our children with homework not to show any sign of emotion because the child can learn only in a calm, quiet and happy atmosphere.

"I am afraid to go to the teacher and principal lest it might make things worse for my daughter. But I don't see how she can hope to catch up under this treatment."

"Last evening Jean was talking about the teacher shaking her and she said her heart pounded so very hard when the teacher does that. She showed me in her book the word she couldn't think of in school. It was 'sooner.' She knew what the word was at home. I am writing to ask you if there is anything I can do or not."

Patience With Child
In part I replied: In school as well as at home to be impatient with the child in relation to his learning hampers his progress; and to scold or slap or shake him then is of all things about the worst possible. My bulletin, "Parents and the Child's Home Work," which thousands of parents have written enclosing a stamped addressed envelope and addressing me at 235 East 45th Street, New York, N. Y., presents principles which all teachers also should observe.

If you can be very calm and cultivated I believe you might be able to prevail on that teacher to be more patient with that child. If you make call on this teacher that you expect her to discipline your child as she sees fit if this child should be a nuisance to the other children or openly disobedient to the teacher. Of course, we would hope that no teacher would shake a child at any time. It is too dangerous. In the meanwhile you might wisely secure a tutor for that child for a few weeks. Also the enclosed bulletin, "Home Helps for Poor Readers," might offer some constructive suggestions.

LESSON IN WORD WEIGHT

There is no reason to doubt the findings of the research organization that has discovered the average salary for each person in the United States—which includes babies in arms—putting something by for college—to be $2,140.

Further, it is a figure that should be presented. It has high instructional value. From it, many millions of Americans may learn just how misleading the word "average" can be even when its use is technically accurate.—Detroit Free Press.

HEART TROUBLE

The heart is such a foolish thing, Devoid of common sense. It gives no thought to wisdom's "ought" Or income or expense. It cannot add, subtract, divide, It neither writes nor reads. The heart is wholly satisfied With doing gracious deeds.

The heart is an impulsive thing That leaps before it looks. It leaves the mind alone to find What's printed in the books. Who'd train the heart in reason's lore?

Would see his labor lost. The heart holds love important more Than reckoning the cost.

The wise and shrewd their heads may shake And call the heart a fool; At what it does their tongues may buzz.

For the heart has judgment cool. But, oh, so reckless is the heart; All wisdom it defies. 'Twould rather loving be, than smart; And tender be, than wise. (Copyright, 1947, Edgar A. Guest)

RECALLS A FAMOUS CASE

Memory has to grope back much more than a generation of old-timers who remember the famous case of Harry K. Thaw. Thaw is gone, the heroine of his romance is living in merciful obscurity and his victim, Stanford White, is forgotten save for the Madison Square Garden he designed.

Thaw himself was a spoiled moron from a rich family. He has no personal claim of any sort of fame but I don't see how she can hope to catch up under this treatment.

"Last evening Jean was talking about the teacher shaking her and she said her heart pounded so very hard when the teacher does that. She showed me in her book the word she couldn't think of in school. It was 'sooner.' She knew what the word was at home. I am writing to ask you if there is anything I can do or not."

Along with the "unwritten law", however, Thaw's attorney introduced to Northern jurisprudence, another factor, which has been many times invoked, justly or unjustly, in defense of criminals. That was termed "dementia Americana"—meaning, of course, an American dementia superinduced by the outraging of domestic morality. The fact that Thaw was once acquitted, although subsequently sentenced to an insane asylum, is a remarkable tribute to the legal skill of his counsel. There never was anything in his whole career, which ended at seventy-six years, to entitle him to special consideration or distinction.

Regardless of the insignificance of Thaw himself, his hectic career set legal precedent and made legal history in America. To this day the "unwritten law" and "dementia Americana" are featured in the pleadings of the country's brilliant criminal lawyers. Harry Thaw was a mere cipher in the annals of his country. But his lawyer of the

Rotary Will Be Hosts To Farmers At Dinner Meeting

Interesting Program Has Been Arranged For Wednesday Night At First Presbyterian Church

New Castle Rotary Club will have a rural-urban dinner meeting on Wednesday evening, at 6:30 o'clock in the First Presbyterian church, when each member will invite a guest from the rural section of the county. These meetings have been held down through the years, and have promoted a better feeling between the residents of the city and those on the farm, giving each other an insight to their problems.

Joseph I. Weinschenk, who is chairman of the evening's program, announces that the speaker will be E. G. Hammil, county agent of Blair county, who served on the United Nations Food Commission overseas during the war, his subject will be, "This is your America."

The "Eintracht" chorus has been secured to furnish the music for the occasion, through the interest of Ross D. Rosenberger, and a fine evening of interest to all is indicated.

Because of the dinner meeting Wednesday, the weekly noon luncheon meeting, Monday noon, was dispensed with.

Declares Housing Shortage Will Continue Year

O.T.C. Administrator Warns Rent Controls Should Continue Until June 30, 1948

WASHINGTON, March 18.—(INS)—Mr. Gen. Philip B. Fleming, O.T.C. administrator, warned congress Monday that the "acute housing shortage" will last at least until June 30, 1948, and said that rent controls should be continued until that time.

Fleming testified before the house banking committee. He opposed legislation by Rep. Wolcott (R), Mich., committee chairman, which would extend rent controls only until March 31, 1948.

The O.T.C. chief declared Wolcott's bill would provide the government with enough authority to continue "an effective workable system of rent control."

He added: "The bill takes away from the government any authority to enforce maximum rents. It sets forth only method of enforcement—court action by individual tenants against individual landlords who may overcharge them."

He declared that under the proposed legislation landlords would force prospective tenants to pay bonuses and side payments. Fleming said that it was not very likely that tenants would bring their landlords into court. He told the committee:

"Veterans and lower income groups looking for a home will be the principal victims of the resulting scramble for illegal rents, for any available vacancies. They cannot afford to pay the bonuses and the side payments."

In a statement to stockholders, Ballantyne announced that in 1946, 50 per cent of the wood used in all of Philco's cabinets was supplied by the newly acquired timber land.

New Books Just Received At City Public Library

New books just received at the public library take the form of everything from a report to St. Peter to a report from an extermination laboratory. Miss Alice M. Sterling, chief librarian, who has listed a few of them below for readers' benefit, feels there is an exceptionally wide range of interest in this new, non-fiction additions.

"Report to Saint Peter" is a partial autobiography of the late Hendrik Willem van Loon. "Together: Annals of an Army Wife," is written by the wife of Secretary of State Marshall; "Out on a Limb," by Louise Baker; "Human Destiny," by Lecomte du Nouy, offers a new interpretation of evolution.

"Critics and Crusaders," by Charles A. Madison, reviews a century of American protest; "Journey Through My Years" is the autobiography of James M. Cox; David Marshall, a New York newspaperman, paints a portrait of an American institution in "Grand Central"; The life of Lincoln is recreated in a new kind of biography in "The Lincoln Reader," edited by Paul M. Angle.

"Experiment 'E'" is the report from a Nazi extermination lab by Leon Szalet, and another former prisoner of Hitler, Kurt von Schausching, chancellor of Austria, is the author of "Austrian Requiem."

Two widely differing books on morals are included: "The Rediscovery of Morals," by Henry C. Link, and "An Essay on Morals," by Philip Wylie, author of the well-known "Generation of Vipers."

Pigeon Fancier Gets 'Bird' In Trapping Tries

PITTSBURGH — (INS) — B. M. Stein of Pittsburgh is a pigeon fancier, but a certain flock of pigeons inhabiting the city's memorial hall doesn't fancy him.

For some time now, Stein has been attempting to trap the wily birds by luring them with corn and special pigeon feed.

So far, all he has received is the "bird"—Bronx variety.

Stein was authorized by the Allegheny County Commissioners to trap the pigeons when they became a nuisance. He proposes to breed them on his farm near Pittsburgh—if he can capture them.

Around Hollywood

By JOHN TODD

International News Service Staff Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD, Mar. 18.—For a moment it looked like there was going to be some real hot news on the set of Universal's "The Secret Behind the Door."

Joan Bennett was going through some conversation with Ann Revere for a scene when she held out a match to light a cigarette for Ann. The match got too close to some paper foliage and it flamed up.

Hero Not Around

From what your reporter has read about some of these incidents, Michael Redgrave, Joan's co-star, should have immediately rushed out from nowhere, seized her in his manly arms and carried her to safety. Judging by the columns, male stars always are saving the ladies from fires, falling lamps and whatnot.

Only this time it didn't work out. Redgrave wasn't even on the set. Director Fritz Lang and a carpenter—they were the closest—rushed over and quickly extinguished the blaze.

Miss Bennett and Miss Revere didn't even seem alarmed. They just went on smoking their cigarettes, and a moment later resumed the scene.

New System To Clear Airlines Of Traffic Jams

PHILADELPHIA, Mar. 18.—(INS)—Air traffic jams may soon become a thing of the past, according to Captain Sam P. Saint of American Airlines.

With the use of automatic block signal control, this prime headache of both passengers and operators will be eliminated. Saint said recently in Philadelphia.

This new method of control is based on the system railroads have been using for years. It handles 80 tracks—five lanes wide and 16 altitudes high—by automatic signal control from the ground.

When a pilot wants to change altitude, he pushes a button. Three seconds later he gets either permission or denial visually on a panel in front of him. Today this operation requires verbal request and a two to eight minute wait while controllers study hand posted data.

"Safety," said Saint, "will increase rapidly in the next two to four years and routine operation on schedule in all weather can be expected in from three to five years."

BALKS AT PLAN TO LEVY TAXES ON REAL ESTATE

HARRISBURG, Mar. 18.—(INS)—Rep. Ellwood J. Turner (R) Delaware stood out in the legislature as one assemblyman who did not agree with Gov. James H. Duff's contention that real estate could not be burdened with higher taxes to defray educational costs.

In an address to the House, Turner suggested a re-evaluation of local government's ability to assume a greater share of educational expenses. He said the commonwealth's contributions have mushroomed in the past quarter-century from about 70 million dollars to more than 200 million dollars in the current biennium.

He said real estate's contribution to the cost of education had not kept pace with the commonwealth's appropriations.

MANY VETERANS ENROLLED

PITTSBURGH—(INS)—More than 59,000 veterans are now undergoing education and training in western Pennsylvania, Alvin R. Gaylor, manager of the veterans administration in Pittsburgh announced.

He said 55,514 are studying under provisions of the G. I. Bill and 3,514 disabled veterans who are undergoing rehabilitation training.

MORE TELEVISION

Philadelphia, March 18.—(INS)—Television stations will be springing up at the rate of nearly two a month during 1947 and 1948, according to J. David Cathcart, who is advertising manager of RCA Victor home instrument department.

"Some 40 construction permits have been granted by the FCC for television stations in addition to nearly a dozen now on the air," he said.

"By 1948, a half million television receivers may well be in the hands of the public."

Vermont has 39 women legislators, the largest number of any state.

SCISSORS

Scissors are very hand tools about the house. We could hardly get along without them.

They may be very dangerous when there are children using them. Sharp pointed scissors should be kept where children cannot get them.

Scissors for children's use should have round ends. They should be used easily by small hands. Pointed scissors may cause serious injury to a child. The eyes are especially likely to be damaged.

Children need a lot of watching and mother has so many things to do.

Children need to learn how to use scissors but they should be watched while they are using them.

Designs Given For Memorial

County Commissioners Considering Erection of Memorial To War Dead

OTHER NEWS OF COURT HOUSE

Within a short time it is probable that the county commissioners will advertise for bids for the erection of a county memorial to the dead of World War Two. On Monday designs were presented by three different companies showing the type of memorial they would erect if given the contract. The commissioners have placed a maximum of $15,000 expenditure for the memorial.

Generally speaking the designs submitted by the three are basically the same. A twenty four foot shaft running up from a stepped platform which is on a stone base and surrounded on three sides by a wall. The memorial will be placed at the corner of East Washington and Court streets and will utilize the wedge shaped portion of lawn there. The George Marble company of Ashtabula, O., represented by G. A. Brockway would build the memorial of Georgia marble, a beautiful stone. The W. P. Kanuckel company of Mt. Vernon, O., would build the memorial of a solid shaft of Minnesota granite, a polished colored granite that is lovely. George A. Watters of New Castle has submitted three pictures of shafts he can erect with no particular stone mentioned.

The commissioners will call in representatives of the various military service organizations of the county to get their idea of what they want in the way of a memorial. Following that there will probably be some action in the way of advertising for bids.

ADDRESSOGRAPHS TO SAVE

In the County of Lawrence, there are thirty-two school districts and twenty-nine road districts, or a total of sixty-one taxing districts outside the City of New Castle. It is not generally understood that the county commissioners with their tax duplicates. In addition to the above sixty-one duplicates, the commissioners must also prepare thirty-seven tax duplicates for the use of the county treasurer in collecting county and institution taxes, making a grand total of ninety-eight tax duplicates to be compiled by the county commissioners office each year.

These tax duplicates show the name and address of each taxpayer and an abbreviated description of the property and the valuation of each property and buildings, as well as the valuation for occupation tax. In the school and road duplicates, there are approximately 47,000 entries, while in the county tax duplicates, there are 60,000 entries or a total of 107,000 entries. Previous to last year, all this work was done by hand, that is, clerks with the use of typewriters, requiring several months time to complete the job each year. With the use of the new addressograph which makes these entries in the tax duplicate sheets eighty to ninety times faster than by the use of typewriters. The commissioners state that a sav-

New Foreign Policy Of U.S. Will Affect World Trade Plan

By JOHN A. REICHMANN
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, March 18—(INS)—Responsible officials today were reported interested in the effect of a changed United States foreign policy on the future of the Geneva meeting of leading Democratic powers where trade barriers are scheduled to be broken down.

The meeting in Switzerland is called for April 10. There appears no doubt that it will take place according to plan. Guesses as to its success, however, vary.

On school of thought takes the position that, since the United States has adopted a strong stand against spreading Communist—and Soviet—domination of trade areas, each of the other world trade powers will seek to consolidate its own trade position and internal economy.

Another holds that, with Russia and her satellites refusing to attend the meeting, the capitalistic states must join together to build a joint world trade of their own which can successfully compete with the Communist section of the world.

Faces Tough Going

Observers were aware that the Geneva conference faced tough going even before President Truman forcefully asserted the administration policy toward Greek and Turkey and condemned infiltration of Communist elements to other parts of the world.

Purpose of the meeting is the elimination of trade barriers, reduction of tariffs and special preferences, bilateral trade agreements and the encouragement of trade and employment.

The United States proposal for an international trade organization was first set forth formally at the time the plan for a three billion 300 million dollar loan to Britain was announced.

It followed theories propounded by the New Deal that the world would be more prosperous if the living standard of backward countries were increased and a free interchange of commodities encouraged.

However, early proposals for preliminary talks along this line were shunned by Russia and the states in her sphere.

Russia Not To Attend

Since Russia and associated states are unlikely to attend the Geneva meeting, observers felt that the delegates will be faced with a situation where a world trade organization is to be set up without the participation of a huge trade area.

Prior to World War II Russia was not seriously considered as an important economic power. Efforts were made by the late President Roosevelt to encourage commercial arrangements with the Soviet.

At the time of the Russo-German pact of 1939, some observers foresaw an important change in Russia's economic future. If her great sources of raw materials were to be joined with the technical skill of Germany, the result might be a tremendous economic force.

Germany then was regarded as the dominating element. Now Russia is thus viewed. And with industrial equipment taken from Germany, Manchuria and Korea plus the industrial ability of Russian occupied Germany, Poland, Czechoslovakia and Yugoslavia, the Soviet might have control of a huge economic bloc.

Some experts regard this as playing as much a part in current developments as the more discussed political and military questions.

National Guard Leaders Mapping Training Plans

HARRISBURG, March 18.—(INS)—Pennsylvania National Guard leaders are mapping plans for training approximately 7000 officers and men during the first post war encampment at the Indiantown Gap military reservation August 9-23.

Adjutant General Frank A. Weber and top level aides have initiated plans for the summer maneuver in cooperation with leaders of the 28th Infantry division, the 51st Anti-Aircraft Artillery brigade, the 11th Regimental Combat team and regular army instructors.

Officers learned that the flow of equipment had increased and that armories were being hard pressed to find storage space.

Maj. Gen. E. J. Stackpole, commandant of the 28th division, told officers the unit was 18 months ahead of war department planning. April 15 has been fixed by the National Guard bureau at Washington, as the deadline for personnel to qualify for summer training.

Railroad Cars To Have Radios

PHILADELPHIA, Mar. 18.—(INS)—Now you can listen to your favorite radio commercial while riding with railroads.

The Budd company is installing "radio seats" in their coaches. The speaker, placed behind upholstery at ear level in the back of the seats, is wired to a central receiving unit with outlets for four different stations. The passenger can choose his program by flicking a dial on the arm of his seat.

And mamma needn't argue with Junior over the relative merits of a concert and the Lone Ranger. For, sitting side by side, they can tune in different programs without any interference.

HER PLACE IN HOME
PITTSBURGH—(INS)—Mrs. Eulah Rousseau has definitely let it be known that a woman's place is in the home.

And what's more she is doing something about it. The 24-year-old blonde is head of a building organization which is constructing 450 low-cost houses in Pittsburgh.

Furthermore Mrs. Rousseau is making sure that all the houses have the comfort-giving qualities that women expect by adding a woman's touch here and there.

BUYS NEWSPAPER

Clay Is Named To Be Full General

WASHINGTON, March 18.—(INS)—Lieut. Gen. Lucius D. Clay, military governor of the American zone in Germany and commander of U. S. forces in the European theater, was nominated by President Truman Monday to be a full general.

Clay now holds the permanent rank of brigadier general.

At the same time the President nominated Maj. Gen. Ralph Huebner, deputy commander of the European theater, to be a lieutenant general.

Preview of next week's disaster

Maybe it won't be a tornado killing and maiming men and women—and children.

Maybe it will be the devastation of a flood. Or the destruction of a hurricane, or a fire. Or the sweeping scourge of an epidemic.

But one thing can be foreseen in the disaster that will strike every week of the year somewhere in our nation—

Your Red Cross will be on the job!

In this year of peace, as in war, your American Red Cross stands ready to supply those in need with emergency hospital care, food, shelter, clothing, and rehabilitation. All this and more to stricken human beings—regardless of race, creed or color.

It's what you're giving for—when you give to your Red Cross.

"My Pop knows when everybody gets up!"

No, Tommy's Dad is not a snooper. It's part of his job to know what time you and your neighbors start turning on lights, ranges, shavers, percolators and toasters in the morning. For these all call for more electricity, and he's the man who tells the power-plants when to send more current through the wires.

TRAFFIC COP OF THE ELECTRIC LINES.
If a bad storm breaks, Tommy's father detours your electricity, so storm damage won't black out your community. If tomorrow will be colder, or cloudy, you'll need more current. . . he'll have it ready. Whenever you and your neighbors and the factories in your town are using a lot for lights and heat and appliances, he sends more into the wires. When the town sleeps, he orders less. As a Load Dispatcher, he holds one of the most important jobs in your electric company.

NEXT-DOOR NEIGHBORS TO EVERYBODY are these helpful men who see that you get all the low-cost electricity you want, when you want it. They have to know the hour-by-hour needs of every neighborhood . . . and that's where they draw on the intimate knowledge of the community that the electric company has gained over many years. It's the skill and experience of electric company people like Tommy's Dad—and the common sense business methods they use—that have built up for Americans the most and the best electric service in the world.

Wimodausis Club Adds $500 To Fund For Cancer Clinic

Wimodausis Makes Generous Gift To B.P.W.-Sponsored Fund For Clinic Here

Following the highly successful style show given March 13 by the Business & Professional Women's club at Strouss-Hirschberg's for the benefit of a fund earmarked for the establishment of a cancer detection clinic in New Castle, it was announced today that the Wimodausis club has sent a check for $500.00 to be added to the proceeds of the style show. A check for this amount has been forwarded by Wimodausis to Mrs. James L. Vogan, chairman of the fund.

Money from the B. P. W. benefit, the amount of which will be announced in the near future will be held in a separate fund until the actual setting up of a clinic here by the local cancer control committee is feasible.

Although the amount in the fund including the gift of $500 from Wimodausis now totals close to $1000, this is only a beginning and B. P. W. as the sponsoring club plans to add to it with further projects.

It was pointed out by Mrs. Vogan that B. P. W. club is interested only in making the establishment of a cancer clinic financially possible here and that the amount in the fund will be available as soon as the time comes when such a clinic can be set up.

Program's End Puts State Pea Growers On Spot

REYNOLDSVILLE, Pa. — (INS) — Seventy-five Jefferson county farmers have halted plans to plant their 1947 pea crop following cancellation of the pea-growing program by a Pittsburgh canning firm.

In 1946 the farmers realized a profit of $80,000 from the program by planting more than 600 acres. Nearly all were planning to increase their acreage this year.

The Pittsburgh firm, in announcing the cancellation, said it was only temporary and was caused by a surplus stock of peas from last year's crop. The yield in 1946 brought $90 a ton for peas and averaged approximately $135 per acre.

No Distinctive Type Of American Head

By FRANCES MUSIC
(N. S. Staff Correspondent)
WASHINGTON, March 18.—(INS)—GI head measurements showed today that all shapes are included except a distinctive American type. A semi-official service publication, the "Infantry Journal," pointed out this finding with an assertion that "rabble rousers and hate purveyors who use the phrase 'one hundred per cent American' may be dismayed to learn that."

Heads of 3,000 enlisted men from all parts of the United States were measured when the chemical warfare service needed information on head shapes and sizes in order to design gas masks.

Outstanding Types
Dr. Alice M. Brues reported the findings of the survey in the American Journal of Physical Anthropology. She listed these outstanding types:

1. A tall, thin-faced narrow-headed type, commonest in those of British extraction and typical of the south.
2. A type of Scandinavian extraction, tall, a wide face and head; most frequently found in west north central states.
3. A short type, round-faced and with a broad head, typical of Germanic, Russian and Slavic extractions and common mainly in the middle Atlantic and east north central states.
4. The French and Mediterranean type, characterized by a narrow face and head and shortness of stature; common in New England.
5. A type distinguished mainly by a broad face indicative of Indian admixture; abounds in Oklahoma and Texas.

The journal, in commenting on the survey, asserted that "anthropologically speaking, our national melting pot has thus far failed to produce a distinctive American type."

But the journal added: "Unclassifiable were the ubiquitous Irish, who abound everywhere and are closest of all to the average of American measurements."

Have Important Roles In Senior Class Comedy

Sally Erce Wilma Duff
Sally Erce and Wilma Duff as Evie Cannon and Hildred Reynolds in the senior high school comedy, "Come Over To Our House," figure in the play in such fashion that the invitation is never issued to them. But for their own reasons, both are frequently in the Eldridge living-room that furnishes the constant setting for the play.
Evie Cannon is a charming little mental lightweight who is attracted romantically to the son of the household. She is always appearing on the pretext of a rehearsal for a boogie-woogie dance number that is to pep up the coming school vaudeville show. The girls do not like her, but the boys do. Hildred Reynolds has plenty of merit which is all offset, however, by the fact that she is two years younger than the rest of the gang. To them she is "that little leech" who is always running in from her home next door. The intrusions of Evie and Hildred are effective stage business.
Sally Erce is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William J. Erce of Highland avenue. Wilma Duff is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Duff of Logan street.

Wheat Reaches Record Price

CHICAGO, March 18.—(INS)—Wheat hit $3 a bushel on the Chicago Board of Trade today, and it didn't stop there.

In the first hour of trading March wheat moved up to $3.05, a rise of 8 1/2 cents a bushel from yesterday's close.

Only once before in the 99-year history of the Board of Trade has the golden grain reached the $3 mark. In the war year of 1917 wheat sold at $3.25.

The advance was attributed to urgent short covering as the date, five days hence, for the conclusion of trading in March wheat approached, and brokers bought to meet commitments.

Since the first of the year the wheat market generally has advanced $1.05 a bushel.

Record Seizure Of Narcotics Is Made In New York

Heroin Worth $1,147,500 Is Seized
From French Freighter By Federal Agents

NEW YORK, March 18.—(INS)—Heroin worth $1,147,500, the largest seizure of narcotics in New York history, was confiscated by federal agents Monday from the French Freighter Satin-Tropez. Agents under Col. Garland Williams, director of the Federal Bureau of Narcotics for the New York area, worked on the case 48 continuous hours, starting Sunday. The find consisted of 459 ounces of pure heroin, valued in the black market at $2,500 an ounce. Seizure was made at Pier 28, East River, where the ship is berthed. Action started with a purely routine inspection of seamen leaving the pier yesterday. Port Patrolman Lawrence Murray found in the money belt of Cesar Negro, 28, a French seaman, four packages, each weighing 2 1/2 ounces. After Negro's arrest, federal agents were notified and undertook a fine-toothcomb search of the freighter. In a locker for soiled linen, they unearthed 50 additional packages. Heroin is never sold pure to addicts, but is adulterated heavily, until an original ounce comes to many times its original dimensions. It is this which gives the narcotic drug its excessive black market value. Port Patrolman Lawrence Murray found in the money belt of Cesar Negro, 28, a French seaman, four packages, each weighing 2 1/2 ounces. After Negro's arrest, federal agents were notified and undertook a fine-toothcomb search of the freighter.

Millions Will Be Needed To Battle Disease Of Cattle

WASHINGTON, Mar. 18.—(INS)—An economy-minded congress today faced the prospect of having to appropriate millions of dollars for eradication of the dreaded foot-and-mouth cattle disease in Mexico. A joint agreement tentatively reached between the United States and Mexico calls for expenditure by this country of nine million dollars before June 30 to remove the threat of the disease to the American cattle industry. But the total cost of stamping out the disease to the American taxpayer is expected to far exceed the nine million dollars required for the present fiscal year. Agriculture department officials estimate that it will take at least two years to wipe out the disease completely. Expenses after June 30 could easily cost additional millions.

U. S. Will Aid In Foot-And-Mouth Disease Battle

June 30 To Stamp Out Epidemic, It Is Revealed

A department spokesman said that a tentative agreement had been reached between the United States and Mexico for financing the program to eliminate the disease. The agreement remains to be "formalized". Under the agreement, the United States will pay indemnities totaling seven and one-half million dollars for diseased cattle slaughtered in Mexico and one and one-half million dollars in operating expenses. Mexico will furnish a total of nine million, 350 thousand dollars for carrying out the program. Of this total, seven million, 600 thousand dollars will be for operating expenses and one million, 750 thousand dollars for indemnities on slaughtered goats, hogs and sheep.

Lenten Bible Classes Continue At Y.W.C.A.

Classes Each Thursday Morning Being Taught By Mrs. J. J.
McIlvaine

The Parables of Jesus are the subject for the Lenten Bible classes which Mrs. J. J. McIlvaine is teaching at the Y. W. C. A. on Thursday mornings in Lent. That they are a great help is proven by the ever increasing number of women of all churches who are attending. There were 250 present last Thursday morning, those who came after 10:25 having to find seats in the balcony. Mrs. McIlvaine defined a parable as "an earthly story with a heavenly meaning" and explained her choice of the Parables for this year's Lenten subject because they are the words of Jesus. Last week it was the Parables of the Kingdom beginning with Jesus words, "The Kingdom of Heaven is like unto"—This week she will choose the parables which portray the qualifications or the steps to discipleship. All women of the community are invited to worship and study together at the Y. W. C. A. Thursday mornings in Lent at 10:25 a. m.

ACCESSORIES FOR SPRING
SUIT

Question: Please tell me what accessories to wear with a tan gaberdine dressmaker suit. What color hat, purse, gloves, blouse and shoes should I wear?
Answer: Either a brown hat or a flowered hat which is very smart with a dressmaker suit—brown shoes and bag, white or brown gloves and a white blouse.

Question: I have heard that one should never thank a hostess for a meal. Is that true?

Answer: Never thank a hostess for a meal when you are leaving, thank her for a lovely evening but do not mention the meal.

Question: Please tell me how a married woman should sign her name to the following types of letters: (1) To a person with whom she was closely associated but not intimately friendly before marriage? (2) To one's former teacher? (3) Strictly business letters?
Answer: Mrs. John Brown, who was Mary Evans before her marriage, should sign her name thus: (1, 2 and 3) Mary Evans Brown. If they do not know her husband's name, she should add in parenthesis underneath her signature (Mrs. John Brown). This addition will not be necessary when writing to intimate friends who will doubtless know the name of her husband.

Question: Please give us newspaper etiquette at the family breakfast table. My husband will not believe me when I say he should divide it with me.

Answer: A divided newspaper is almost as hopeless as Humpty Dumpty—all the king's horses and all the king's men cannot put it together again, without more trouble than most of us are willing to undertake. So your husband is probably right. However, I refuse to be a party to this universal argument. If your husband takes his paper with him, he should let you read it before he goes or subscribe for two newspapers.

Home Economist.

FARMERS MUST WATCH EXPENSES

Lawrence county farmers can expect less favorable conditions in the near future, according to Earle Moffitt, farm management extension specialist, Pennsylvania State College. Mr. Moffitt made this statement at a recent extension meeting at the Liberty Grange Hall. While every product of Lawrence county farms will find a ready market, prices for some of these products will probably be somewhat lower. In addition, costs of supplies which farmers need are high, and some may increase slightly. Moffitt suggested that farmers watch expenses closely, spending money only for things which will help to increase income. High rates of production will be necessary to keep costs as low as possible. Careful planning will be necessary if farm operations are to show a net income.

Building Permits Showing Increase

Permits issued at the department of building, city hall, during the month so far, show an estimated cost of $47,605. The cost of building during February was $92,200. A. & M. Market, Scioto street, incinerator, $1,200.
Ralph Boudo, 511 Division street, 1 1/2 frame dwelling, $4,000.
Frank Russello, 513 Division street, 1 1/2 frame dwelling, $4,000.
Phillip Mike, 411 East Long avenue, concrete block for storeroom, $3,000.
W. A. Hammond, 214 West Garfield avenue, concrete block garage, $1,500.
Edwin Porter, rear 30 North Mill street, concrete business block, $1,200.
Joseph Bobosky, 211 Bluff street, frame dwelling, $2,000.

"The Company agrees..."

BEFORE the New York Stock Exchange admits the securities of any company to its trading list, that company enters into a number of agreements with the Exchange, all in the interest of the investing public.

Of these many agreements, the most important of all is this: The company agrees to disclose, at regular intervals, the basic facts about its operations and financial condition.

Because of this agreement, investors have access to a wealth of essential information. As a result, it is possible to make facts the sole basis of investment decisions, so far as securities listed on the New York Stock Exchange are concerned.

Understandably, this Exchange cannot eliminate the risks which accompany ownership of securities—risks inevitable in the possession of any form of property. But its listing agreements do provide for disclosure of facts necessary to good investment judgment.

The wise investor seeks these facts... in the reports of listed companies... on the financial pages of the newspapers... at the offices of Member Firms of this Exchange.

Unusual Achievement At West Pittsburgh School Is Reported

Arthur Gibson, principal of the West Pittsburgh schools, reported an unusual accomplishment at the school in connection with the annual standard achievement tests that are given there to the students.

After the examinations were given in the third grade of the school, it was discovered that 100 per cent improvement had been made since the tests were given just one year ago. The splendid results of the tests this year, reflects on the work of the faculty of the school which has been persistent in the teaching of the required subjects to the boys and girls.

The improvement is an outstanding record for any school, due to the fact that the accomplishment has seldom been surpassed in any of the County schools.

An assembly program has been planned for the school on Friday afternoon, when the first four grades will present a health program.

QUARTER-FINALS TO PACK THRILLS

Four more junior cage outfits fell by the wayside last night at the Y. M. C. A. floor in the tourney being staged there as first round play drew to a conclusion.

Three of the victims lost by rather decisive margins but the fourth team battled their conquerors to the final buzzer in a thrilling exhibition.

Action will get faster and the opposition stiffer from now on as the survivors enter the quarter-finals Wednesday night. Semi-finals are slated for Friday and the big championship encounter will be next Monday.

The Jackets had steady scorers in their lineup to subdue the Scotties, paced by Reiber with eight and Leslie and Simpson with seven each. All's ten markers sparked the Scotties.

The Titans, mostly New Castle high squad members, had an easy time with the Sharks, "Red" Richards with 10, Al Tate 12 and Marcotelli with 10, showed the way in the triumph.

Gus' Little Five showed real strength in their victory over the Shenango Hi-Y team. Big guns were Toscano with 14 and Passius with 10. Ronny Johns, high school ace with Shenango during the season, played fine ball for the losers with a 12-point total.

The thriller of the night saw the K. P. Cubs, most of whom are Union high players, downing the Royals. The score was 15-13 at halftime in favor of the K. P.'s but a strong rally by the Royals made it quite a

Long Island And Duquesne Bow Out

Kentucky And Utah Win Quarter-Final Games By Very Slim Margins

NEW YORK, Mar. 18.—(INS)—The National Invitation Basketball tournament at Madison Square Garden became something like an open contest today as a result of Kentucky's close call against Long Island university last night in a quarter-final round game.

Kentucky, the nation's No. 1 team, defending champion and a 13-point favorite over L.I.U. looked the part by rolling up an 11-point lead over the Blackbirds, but the latter almost won the game with a sensational rally in the second half. As a result, Kentucky, which now will meet North Carolina State in the penultimate round tomorrow, had to be satisfied with a 66-62 victory.

West Virginia-Utah

Wednesday's other semi-final contest will be between West Virginia and Utah, which nosed out Duquesne 45 to 44 in last night's sensational opener. Though beaten by the Dukes earlier in the season, the Utes put up a ding-dong battle all the way. They led by one point at halftime and maintained that margin exactly in the second half.

Duquesne got off to an 11 to 1 lead at the start, but bewildered Utah quickly pulled itself together and made a contest out of it.

L.I.U. played in spurts against Kentucky. The Blackbirds, putting up an amazing sharp defensive game and a deliberate offense, seemed to have played themselves out in the opening minutes and faded rapidly as the first half waned. But they came back like a tornado in the second half.

Natie Miller Stars

The big hero of Long Island's rally was Natie Miller, a freshman ex-GI with a gaping shrapnel wound in his shoulder. Miller, coming into the game after his mates were trailing by 19 points, sparked a sensational drive which enabled the Blackbirds to actually tie the score with only 26 seconds left to play, and the packed house in a bedlam. At this point "Wah Wah" Jones came to Kentucky's rescue with a game-winning goal which made it 20 points for the evening for Jones. That shot killed the Blackbirds, although Kentucky got another basket a few seconds later.

Clayton Heafner Playoff Winner

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Mar. 18.—(INS)—Clayton Heafner of Charlotte, N. C., added $2,104 to his bankroll today for winning the $10,000 Jacksonville open golf tournament in a playoff with Lew Worsham of Washington, D. C.

Heafner, who finished the final round of the medal play tournament Sunday in a tie for first place with Worsham, defeated his rival yesterday on the 21st hole of their scheduled 18-hole title playoff.

Forty-one-year-old Roger (Doc) Cramer is tired of a pinch-hitting role. The veteran Detroit Tiger wants a regular berth in the outfield this season—his sixth with the Bengals.

Manager Ben Chapman apparently is convinced that little Skeeter Newsome can no longer stand the grind of a full 154-game season.

Brewster Claims Truman By-Passed UN In His Action

PHILADELPHIA, Mar. 18.—(INS)—Sen. Owen Brewster (R., Me.) chairman of the Senate War Investigating committee, believed today that the United Nations was bypassed by President Truman in what he termed a "unilateral move" to halt Soviet aggression.

Brewster told members of the Friendly Sons of St. Patrick, at their 176th annual dinner in Philadelphia that the United States action should have awaited a report by the UN on Greek labor conditions which is due "in two or three weeks."

"For America to be under the necessity of taking unilateral action before the arrival of this report is highly unfortunate," the senator said. "Fifty other nations are ready without question to cooperate with us in the repelling of aggression wherever it is found, but the United States seems intent on carrying the torch alone."

Although he praised President Truman's "sincerity and humility" in asking $400,000,000 to combat Soviet influence in Greece and Turkey, he pointed out that "not even America, alone, is equal to the task of dominating the whole earth."

Hot Springs Mayor Under Indictment

HOT SPRINGS, Ark., March 18.—(INS)—Mayor Leo P. McLaughlin was under indictment today by a special grand jury on seven counts in connection with alleged negligence in office.

The jury, which convened March 4 for the probe into the office McLaughlin has held for 20 years, returned the indictment last night and set his bond at a total of $40,000.

Mayor McLaughlin was charged with neglect and failure to file a financial report, two counts for alleged payment of public funds to persons not entitled to receive them, and four counts of bribery.

McLaughlin's private secretary, Miss Hazel Marsh, also was indicted, as was the mayor's brother, George McLaughlin.

Miss Marsh, who was charged with bribery, was released under bond of $2,500.

George McLaughlin was charged with conversion of public funds and was released on $10,000 bail.

EASTON, Pa., March 18.—(INS)—War veterans are matching the scholastic records of civilian students at Lafayette college according to Dean Frank R. Hunt.

grade of 85 per cent or higher. During the first semester at Lafayette there was exactly the same percentage of veterans on the list as there were civilians.

William Henry Harrison served the shortest term of any President of the United States, living only 25 days after being inaugurated.
